

Drilling rig floor mats

What is rig grip drill floor safety matting?

Rig-Grip drill floor safety matting is designed for use across your drill floor; each mat is custom moulded and incorporates our high traction studded surfaces, thus providing an excellent non-slip surface for working on.

Why should you use a mat in a drill rig?

Our mats are often used to prevent slips and falls in drill floors and rig environments. Our strong commitment to quality ensures that every part and final design passes a thorough review and testing, which verify its viability, durability, and effectiveness.

What are rig floor mats?

Mats Inc. stocks rig floor mats for drill floor applications. Made of industrial polyurethane, our rig floor mats are robust and resistant to wear and tear. They provide a secure surface for oil rig workers to stand and walk on, limiting the risk of individuals slipping and injuring themselves.

Who makes the best rig mats & drilling rig matting?

Quality Mat Company offers the best rig mats and drilling rig matting to safely and sensitively work on any location. With 51 years of experience, Quality Mat Company provides a solid base for all your drilling and construction needs.

Why should you choose a quality rig mat company?

For drilling rig mats, drilling rig matting, and ground protection, choose the trusted Quality Mat Company. Our rig mats are favored for drilling rigs and large construction applications, and are used in the most environmentally sensitive areas all over the world.

Why do oil rig workers need traction mats?

In particular, slick floors are some of the most common hazards facing oil rig workers. Drilling mud and crude oil can make the rig floor slippery, contributing to trips, slips, and falls. Fortunately, placing traction mats throughout the drill floor can provide additional traction and footing for workers, thereby reducing the risk of injury.
